

About Zoe Wild

Zoë Wild, CPCC, is a professionally trained and certified life, business & spiritual coach, workshop leader, public speaker, author, and founder of Wild Life Coaching and Ambassadors of Awakening.

Her education and employment span a wide array of interests and fields including selling a screenplay, working in Hollywood as a manager of development, online marketing and advertising, modeling, editing full length manuscripts, environmental activism, hospice care and business development.

Zoë is also an ordained Sufi Interfaith Minister, has spent extended time as a Buddhist nun in Burma, and is trained as a Buddhist Chaplain. It is her great privilege to use the wisdom she has gained from these traditions, combined with her business expertise, to guide people on their unique paths to inner peace, strength, love, happiness, prosperity and fulfillment.

Her ability to help you transform yourself and your life comes from her own personal successes as much as education, training and experience. She continues to grow and be inspired daily, and enjoys enhancing her skills on a regular basis by taking courses in many healing modalities, life purpose, relationship and communication seminars, and bringing these techniques to her clients.

Zoë is passionate about helping others discover their passions and make them a reality, enhance communication, maintain fulfilling relationships, and know the truth of their being—to work, live and love in the moment! From this place, with the right tools, anything is possible!
